

Paraytalla que el conde de los yugares en Propios

This image shows a severely damaged and stained document page. The paper is yellowed and has large brownish stains, particularly on the right side. Handwritten text in Spanish is visible in several places. At the top left, there is a large, stylized signature. To its right, the words "de ferriado" are written above some illegible text. Below this, the word "declaro" is followed by a date "26 de Septiembre de 1702". Further down, another signature is preceded by "Yo declaro" and "que el dicho". In the center, there is a large, ornate signature. To its right, the word "rectifico" is written above a date "26 de Septiembre de 1702". Below this, the word "rectifico" appears again, followed by a date "26 de Septiembre de 1702". At the bottom left, there is a large, stylized signature. This image shows a single page from a medieval manuscript. The page is filled with dense handwritten text in a Gothic script, arranged in two columns. Several large, ornate initials are visible, particularly at the beginning of sections. A prominent feature is a large, stylized initial 'I' in red ink, which contains a smaller illustration of a figure. In the bottom right corner, there is a large, circular red seal or stamp, which appears to be a coat of arms or a similar emblem. The paper itself is aged and yellowed, with some dark spots and stains. On the far left edge, there is a vertical column of text written in a different, more formal hand, possibly a title or a list. The overall appearance is that of a historical document, likely a legal or ecclesiastical record.
